

Ginny in the Mirror

Del Shannon

Every night, how I want to kiss her
Every night, how I really miss her
When I'm all alone in my lonely room
And these creaking boards like the sound of doom
In my pain I look in the looking glass
And I see

Ginny in the mirror
Ginny with the laughing eyes
Ginny in the mirror
Ginny when she said goodbye

When I think my broken heart's mended
And this misery will be ending
Then I hear a voice in the lonely night
Feel a chill 'cause there's not a soul in sight
Turn around and look in the looking glass
And I see

Ginny in the mirror
Ginny with the laughing eyes
Ginny in the mirror
Ginny when she said goodbye

How long can eyes keep on crying?
Just how long can I go on dying?
Forty days feels more like forty years
Forty nights lying down in a bed of tears
Through my tears I look in the looking glass
And I see

Ginny in the mirror
Ginny with the laughing eyes
Ginny in the mirror
Ginny when she said goodbye
