Cue

Delacey

You saved me your last sip of your favorite drink
I just fucked your brains out on the kitchen sink
I'm afraid I'll miss you if I so much as blink
It's a no-brainer if you give me a ring

So, tell me what is wrong with me
That feels like my cue to leave
I know I ruin everything
I need you to know something

I will never find love like this
Never find love like this again
Ah, if this ain't love, nothing is
Love just doesn't exist, baby

You know things about me no one else does
You don't think I'm damaged, but we're fooling no one
And you know I was hurt bad when I was too young
But with you, I'm better, better than I was

So, tell me what is wrong with me
That feels like my cue to leave
I know I ruin everything
I need you to know something

I will never find love like this
Never find love like this again
Ah, if this ain't love, nothing is
Love just doesn't exist, baby

I swear to God, I'll try to stay
I'm still your sad girl, baby
Wish all these bad thoughts away
'Cause

I will never find love like this
Never find love like this again
Ah, if this ain't love, nothing is
Love just doesn't exist, baby
