

Dandelions

Delacey

I don't like who I am today
But loving you makes me feel important
You and me in our glory
Hope you don't die before me
Is there room in heaven
For everyone I ever loved on this planet?
I loved them so much that it hurts
More than I can say in words
I get jealous, then I'm on fire

The girl has a dream
The girl has a dream
For whatever it means

When I go in the ground
Put dandelions on my grave
I know I won't be around
But you'll still remember me
Oh, you still love my darkness
Even when it's the hardest
And you know love isn't in my department
But I still love you regardless, regardless

You came in my orbit
Ever since I've never been the same
I can't feel a thing if you're not around me
If you're not around me

The girl has a dream
The girl has a dream
