

Maniken, be with us today.
Should we sacrifice more smaller?
Free word of prayers
Certain is our withering.

Many kinds of life they're watching,
We tell the height, the right through howling.
Many strike behold the people,
Evil and skilled.
For now the eyes are watching
And they say to me: comment the lie.
Down the mountain they are coming
With death in their heads.

The strenght lights our belief.
Every common says:
Behold your opponers,
And never, never say die!

Maniken, lower people,
Sheked for not known call.
Ruled by armed people
Getting even within.

Many kinds of life they're watching,
We tell the height, they right through howling.
Many strike behold the people,
Evil and skilled.
For now the eyes are watching
And they say to me: comment the lie.
Down the mountain they are coming
With death in their heads.

You'll soon know the power that is within you.
And when it is unleashed
You'll turn this world into a hollow, hollow hell:
It's your destiny.
