

Milk and Honey

Delain

The sun was golden flame
The air was sweet like honey
The grass was soft we made
A pledge to keep on running
The clouds were shied away
The air was warm and damp
Oh on this golden day
You ripped my heart away

It was the dawn of May
A lonely blackbird singing
Now the same melody
Brings back the pain...

(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
Take my advice!
(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
If you are wise!
As long as you're forgetting all the wrong
Please look over your shoulder twice

The moon was silver light
The air was sweet like honey
We said our last goodbyes
Now what are we becoming?
Outside the blackbirds sing
But you keep down the blinds
'Cause each time you kiss her lips
They'll sing my lullaby

(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
Take my advice!
(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
If you are wise!
As long as you're forgetting all the wrong
Please look over your shoulder twice

Always look twice

Not so long ago
Now we are sober and cold
And there's a braver insane
Gotta let all bring
Just gotta let all bring this pain

(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
Take my advice!
(Brings back the pain)
You'll get it, regret it
If you are wise!
You'll get it, regret it
You'll get it, regret it

As long as you're forgetting all the wrong
Please look over your shoulder

Always look over your shoulder twice
