

The Cold

Delain

Frozen winter moonlight
Fading pages cold
Stars must fall to unbind
Story's end untold

It's the story of our time
And the winter that settled over us
In a book with loose pages
Oh don't slip away
I need you to stay forever mine

I'm awaiting the sunrise
To awaken my frozen heart for you
But the dead of the night deepens the cold

Frozen winter moonlight
Fading pages cold
Stars must fall to unbind
Story's end untold

It's a story of moonlight
And the glimmer of ice that captured us
With the daylight forsaken
Please undo the chains
We can't slowly fade into the night

I'm awaiting the sunrise
To awaken my frozen heart for you
But the dead of the night deepens the cold
Frozen dreams of the sunrise
Can't awaken a warm side of the moon
And the dead of the night deepens the cold

Fading pictures on the wall
Cannot warm us anymore

I'm awaiting the sunrise
To awaken my frozen heart for you
But the dead of the night deepens the cold
Frozen dreams of the sunrise
Can't awaken a warm side of the moon
And the dead of the night deepens the cold

Frozen winter moonlight
Fading pages cold
Stars must fall to unbind
Story's end untold
