

Red

Delaney Jane

I put on my camouflage
I feel the self-sabotage
Falling off my tongue
Always faster when I'm drunk
Faster when I fall in love
Now I'm kicking up the dirt again
And you just wanna make amends
But I fight like its depended on my life
So I sharpen the knife
And let the words fly

You, you
You deserve better
Guess I shoulda warned you 'bout my temper

I see red, I see red
I see no yellow, blue, green, or violet
All I see is red in my head
I see red, I see red
There's nothing as vibrant or as violent
All I see is red in my head

Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head
Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head

I see you're waiting for the storm to pass
But you don't know how long they last
I'm biting through my lip
I'm thinking someone steers the ship
While Delaney takes a trip
Now I'm grabbing at your shirt again
'Cause I can't control the state I'm in
It's crimson and it's blurry
It's the color of my fury
I can feel the blood a-boiling

You, you
You deserve better
Guess I shoulda warned you 'bout my temper

I see red, I see red
I see no yellow, blue, green, or violet
All I see is red in my head
I see red, I see red
There's nothing as vibrant or as violent
All I see is red in my head

Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head
Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head

Red in my, red in my, red in my
No yellow, blue, green, or violet
All I see is red in my head
I see red, I see red
There's nothing as vibrant or as violent
All I see is red in my head

Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head
Red in my, red in my
I see red, I see red
All I see is red in my head
