

Take a secret on your way there's too many things not said there was no way out of this maze so I shut the door on my thread 'cause all the lines we had to walk they brought us back again and all the times I thought I'd won I knew you'd lose again
I hope one day you will understand see the blade I held the vial you drank
I hope one day you will understand see the blade you held the vial I drank the horizon's drawing closer and there's no one to help move on I left all the chains you've broken but I had to go on alone 'cause all the lines I had to cross they brought me back again and all the times I thought you lost my strength came back again
I hope one day you will understand see the blade I held
the vial you drank
I hope one day you will understand.
see the blade you held
the vial I drank
I hope one day you will understand.
see the blade I held
the vial you drank
I hope one day you will understand.
see the blade you held
the vial I drank
I hope one day you will understand
see the blade I held
