

In the year three thousand and thirty everybody wants to be an mc
In the year three thousand and thirty everybody want to be a dj
In the year three thousand and thirty everybody want to be a producer
In the year three thousand and thirty everybody want to tell ya the meaning of the music

I must appeal to you people with your faculties
Cuz everybody else is gonna laugh at me
People try to get over and take a crack at me
The universe is one and I can see what rap can be glorious
Put in the Smithsonian my podiums for holy hymns
But you see whos controlling them
Fuck myself off cuz of the egotistical mode I'm in No I can't slap you no five
When you and your cutty is talkin shit about me outside People take pride in what they have no hand in Sorta like a phantom holographic handsome
But deep inside he wants to do what his man done
Just because his peers jeer and and clown
When your six foot deep no one hears you now
They say were not compatible like deers and cows and owls
So many rules and regulations say you're not allowed

I'm caught in the grip of the city Madness

If I had to describe the way I survive its like vice squeezin
The reason I'm black and still breathin
Heathens will breed heathens so
Everybody's suspect I must check your ID
Cuz you lookin sheisty you might be intelligence Someone that Del's against Opposite of positive
When I drop the law against nature be faithful
Why should I hate you we ain't that different

We may act differen't in some ways
But we still grouped together like a fkin survey
Sufferin and fk em all's the motto
I'm trapped in a bottle
My music's gettin hollow
That's what happens when humanity you follow
Where every leak or info is hard to swallow
Sell your Marlboros and car insurance
Put niggas on the moon and can't pay for your burdens
I smoke herb and rock a turban
Meditate on the world and whats occurin
A lot of white boys like the style and copy
Dig in something deeper and you'll peep that were not free
It's not about the seperation its about the population

Simple minded people always point the finger
To bring it to a close as if life is their road, they path
When all paths are intersections
It all depends on the persons perception
When I'm mad as fk you get shot and to some, it's bad luck

I believe you held something back for too long
It grew strong
And enegy got its own will
And people think they make music still
But music is there with out you or me we just manipulate
For better or worse so let it situate
I get to make records and dough
Paid out the asshole
And still seen as another face on the totem pole Conquered, my sponsors are monsters
And everybody thinks that I'm on one I'm glad I love music and life cuz it's easy to see the pain and strife and end it all tonight

I'm caught in the grip of the city Madness
