

Savage

Demon Hunter

Oh, keep it behind your eyes, no one has to know
Hide, let all who burn inside turn inside to stone

And every time you breathe, you feel it leave
Leave

I feel the static of a shadow in your place
I see a savage in the still upon your face

So, buried a thousand feet underneath your soul
Lie all of the vows you made, ties you laid to rest

And every time you breathe, you feel them leave
Leave

I feel the static of a shadow in your place
I see a savage in the still upon your face

I feel the static of a shadow in your place
I see a savage in the still upon your face
I feel the static of a shadow in your place
I see a savage in the still upon your face
