

Brother

dEMOTIONAL

The same old story all over again when will you change my friend this time it's different you try to defend but you always get hurt in the end I'm tired of watching you fall from the edge and nothing I say seem to help

But I still believe in you but you're running out of time
I hope you'll find your answers soon
brother of mine

Try to believe you but history repeat it self because you're a liar one step back then two steps back again

But I still believe in you
but you're running out of time
I hope you'll find your answers soon
brother of mine

It's hard to let go when you have come this far Never lose hope, but learn from your scars Fighting the dark you are meant to shine Must find your spark, I love you, brother of mine

I'll always be right here, loosing you's my greatest fear
But I still believe in you
but you're running out of time
I hope you'll find your answers soon
brother of mine