

How Does It Feel

Deniece Williams

How did it feel when he changed his number
How did it feel
You see the signs, they say he don't love you
How does it feel
Should you be angry, should you be sad
How does it feel
He made you cry and now you're mad
Grab your emotions, your self-control, now

Mm-hmm...

How did it feel when he changed his number
How did it feel
He used to come by almost every night
Now it's been weeks
Should you be angry, should you be sad
How does it feel
He made you cry and now you're mad
Grab your emotions, your self-control, now

You can do it without a fight
Even though you may cry all night
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right, tonight
You can do it without a fight
Everything will work out all right
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right

How does it feel when you see her with him
How does it feel
Yeah, she's his type, but worst of all
She's an old friend
Should you ignore them, should you just smile
What should you do
Should you be praying for new love, too
Grab your emotions, your self-control, now

You can do it without a fight
Even though you may cry all night
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right, tonight
You can do it without a fight
Everything will work out all right
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right

You can do it without a fight
Even though you may cry all night
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right, tonight
(Ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh...)
You can do it without a fight
Everything will work out all right
(You can do it)
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right

You can do it without a fight
(You can do it)
Even though you may cry all night
(You can do it, do it, do it)
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right, tonight
You can do it without a fight
(Do it, ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh...)
Everything will work out all right
You can do it without a fight
(You can do it, yeah)
Tonight, it's right
(Just lift you head up high and smile)

You can do it without a fight
Even though you may cry all night
You can do it without a fight
Tonight, it's right, you can do it...
