

It's Your Conscience

Deniece Williams

Don't ever talk to strangers
That's what daddy told me long ago
I didn't know your kisses sweet
Would be bad for me

Don't give your love to strangers
He's looking for a way to capture your heart
Bellman, please
I'm checking in at the heartbreak inn

When I finally looked into your eyes
Much to my surprise I found to you love's a game
To be played, yes, played from time to time
I'm swallowing my pride, come back
You're blowing my mind

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Don't ever let a stranger
Fill your pretty head with fantasies
And make believe
He'll only deceive, give my heart back to me

Don't give your love to strangers
He's looking for a way to capture your heart
Bellman please
I'm checking in at the heartbreak inn

When I finally looked into your eyes
Much to my surprise I found to you love's a game
To be played, yes played from time to time
I'm swallowing my pride, come back
You're blowing my mind

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Listen to me, listen please
He's a stranger
He don't love you, he don't care
You're at danger, danger, danger
Oh

Listen to me, listen please
It's your conscience
He don't love you, he don't care
This is nonsense, nonsense

Listen to me, listen please
He's a stranger, yeah, yeah
He don't love you, he don't care
You're at danger, danger, danger
Ohohoho
