

Strangers

Deniece Williams

Ooh-ooh-ooh...

Ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh-ooh...

There was a time when we were lovers
Each time we'd meet ecstasy, we'd discover

But we're strangers to each other now
Strangers to each other now

You were so free and so willing to fly
Now you're all changed, this new you can't be right

What we shared is over now
I guess this is our fate
Can we part at least friends for now
And the love, and the love I will wait

Ooh, strangers to each other now
Strangers to each other now

Ooh, memories of love and the fun that we had
Haunt me at night and my days are so sad

What we shared is over now
I guess this is our fate
Can we part at least friends for now
And the love, and the love, baby, I will wait

Ooh, darling, we're strangers to each other now
Ooh, darling, we're strangers to each other now

There's no more you, there's no more me
There's no more love, there's no more love

And this is where the story ends
Strangers, oh-oh-oh...
Yeah, yeah, yeah
Strangers to each other now
Oh, baby, you let the love slip away
Ooh... strangers

There's no more you, no more me
There's no more love, there's no more love
And this is where the story ends
Strangers to each other now
Well, I can't pretend that love's the same no more
Ooh-ooh...
Oh, oh, oh-oh-oh... strangers
Oh, ooh... the love slipped away

There's no more me, there's no more you
There's no more love, there's no more love
And this is where the story ends
Oh... ooh-ooh-ooh...

(There's no more me, there's no more you)
(There's no more me, there's no more you)

(There's no more me, there's no more you)
We're strangers to each other now
Memories haunt me at night
All I can do is hold my pillow tight
I've never been so good now...
