

Suspicious

Deniece Williams

There's a place that we dare not go
It's our secret, we don't want to show
To each other what we are inside
So in fear our true selves we hide

In the market where we feed our souls
You want silver, darling, I want gold
And you wonder, are you in control
You suspect me, but you come on home

Suspicious, superstitious
You're suspicious, darling, superstitious
I never ever thought I'd fall in love again
But your suspicious, superstitious
Well, I'm suspicious, baby, superstitious

I'm in question about what I see
I recognize it, oh, and I believe
You're a spoiler who would steal my heart
Oh, but you're caught up in the lover's part

Suspicious, superstitious

You're suspicious, superstitious
Well, I never ever thought I'd fall in love again
I'm suspicious, superstitious
You're suspicious, baby, superstitious

(Suspicious, superstitious)
Ooh...
Suspicious about you and me
Superstitious about what I see

(Suspicious, superstitious)
(Suspicious, superstitious)

Suspicious about our love affair
Superstitious, but you know I care
(Suspicious, superstitious)
Ooh... uh-huh
(Suspicious, superstitious)
Oh, yeah, suspicious, oh-oh...
Suspicious about you and me
Superstitious, uh-huh
(Suspicious, superstitious)
Ooh...
Suspicious, won't you feed your soul
Superstitious, let love control...
