

Demons

Dennis Lloyd

Sometimes I have no thoughts 'cause I just can't afford them baby

And I don't dream at night 'cause when I wake up I feel crazy
Got money on my mind and what I do is only paying
I'm thinking about the future, but it ain't so pretty baby

I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)
I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)

I used to dissappear when I had problems in my way
"Fuck that shit, I'm leaving" that is what I used to say
I've used to run away from demons laying in my bed
But it never seem to shut the fucking voices in my head

I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)
I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)

I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah
I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah

I've tried to fill the emptiness inside in every way
The nights I don't remember, different bitches every day
Got addicted to a game I didn't even want to play
So I just had to pack my bags and walk the fuck away

I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)
I had to get away, I had to get away, yeah (Oh oh)

I had to get away, I had to get away
I had to get away, I had to get away
