

Hotel Stationery

Dent May

I'm writing you a note on hotel stationery
Just to say: "Hello", you're extraordinary
I thought about you all day, I dreamt about you all night
But, you're so far away, I hope this finds you all right

I'm humming you a tune on a dusty old piano
From a distant, empty room while gazing out the window
On an unfamiliar scene that makes no sense to me
So, I thought I'd drop a line to make sure that you're fine

I'm writing you a note on hotel stationery
Just to say: "Hello"
