

You Are Not Alone

Deorro

You try to hide it, not to feel
But you can feel it in the night
You try to follow, hard to see
But you can see it deep inside

You run around until it's hard to breathe
I know you ripen and the wound is deep

You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'll be beside you when all your friends are gone
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'll be beside you when all your friends are gone
You and I, we were destined to shine
Just the city lights, city lights
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn

Open your window, kiss the breeze
Just hear the whispers of the night
And watch your shadow disappear
As you are rising up so high

Open your eyes 'cause this is not a dream, mm
Nothing's for sure and nothing's what it seems

You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'll be beside you when all your friends are gone
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'll be beside you when all your friends are gone
You and I, we were destined to shine
Just the city lights, city lights
You are not alone, you are not alone
I'm here beside you 'til the early morn
