Martyr

Depeche Mode

I've been a martyr for love
And I will die in the flames
As I draw my last breath
As I'm close in on death
I will call out your name

I've been a martyr for love Nailed up on the cross While you're having your fun As the damage is done I'm assessing the cost

I knew what I was letting myself in for I knew that I could never even the score

I've been a martyr for love I need to be by your side I have knelt at your feet I have felt you deceit Could have leave if I tried

I've been a martyr for love Tortured every hour From the day I was born I've been moved like a pawn By the greatest of powers

I knew that I would have to suffer in vain Aware that I would never outgrow the pain

I've been a martyr for love
I've been a martyr for love
I've been a martyr for love
