

Television Set

Depeche Mode

You can see them running through me, babe
You can see the lights in their eyes
You can see the masses raising me
And I'm preaching them more lies
I'm just a mass-form communication
I sell what everyone buys
Do you know my appearance is changing
Changing from my disguise

I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set

You can have me, babe, if you want me
Just plug me into your wall
And I'll give you sex if you want it
Or I'll give you nothing at all
You can have me, babe, for good times
You can have me, babe, for bad
Keep me running all of your life and
I'll turn your instant demand

I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set

Did you see them running through me, babe?
Did you see the lights in their eyes?
Did you see the masses raising me?
Am I preaching them more lies?
I'm just a mass-form communication
I sell what everyone buys
Do you know, my appearance is changing
Changing from my disguise

I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set
I'm just a television set