Kill My World

Deportees

Are you lonesome yet? Does the sky fall down?
Are you running through the hallways with your paper crown?
A fall is not a fall if the leaves don't whirl
I don't know if you know this but you kill my world

That's the hardest part
That's the hardest part

Can you name the taste in your mouth right now?
You were only winning 'cause I let you down
Oh, I asked about you, pretty sure that you heard
I don't know if you know this but you kill my world

Oh, you better be okay
I don't want to see but can't look away

That's the hardest part
That's the hardest part
Nothing breaks like a heart
That's the hardest part

There's a quiet violence in your eyes these days
Speaking to me loudly in a silent way
You found a pocket of air under a [?]
It's not everything you hoped for, but a comfort of soul

Oh, you better be okay
I don't want to see but can't look away

That's the hardest part
That's the hardest part
Nothing breaks like a heart
That's the hardest part
