

ALL IS LOST

Derdian

Dorian
This journey has no end
For those forced to bend their head
In grief we search refuge
This loss is so damn huge
The core of our world
Will be our home now
Who knows for how long
The beast will reign above.

Father king
Surrender fills your eyes
And my heart consumed with pain

All is lost and our lives are broken
We flee into the shadow of our Earth
Our new home from now on
Will be inside our heart
All is lost! What will be our fate?
All is lost
All is lost

This hiding place is cold
A maze of caves carved in stones
Black columns bear the vault
Of the godforsaken underworld
The conscience sways, I cry..
One drop in a sorrow stream
The desperation screams
Echoe here within my mind

Father king
Surrender fills your eyes
And my heart consumed with pain
