

Third Day

Derek Minor

Yeah, ayy, caught in this sequence
Still see the seasons fly by
As I search for meaning
I saw as the angels deceased a demon
I saw as the reaper deceased the dreams of a king
But my homies planted a seed to leave behind
And still instill the legacy
Still got my wings despite my evil, even a wretch like
Even in the evenings when odds beat me
I'm seeking the seven truths, from the seven spirits in sequence
Let the seven heavens release the floodgates on my people
Uh I was pressed for sanity, stressed for calamity, excess vanity
Escaping reality
But I stand seven feet and since I was 17
I knew it was my destiny

Bet I rise like the third day, the third day, the third day
I was down in the worst way, on the Thursday, but it's the third day
Bet I rise like the third day, the third day, the third day
I was down in the worst way, on the Thursday, but it's the third day
I know it look dark right now, but it's the last night, last night
If you make it to the morning light, it's gon be alright, alright

Feelin' good, feelin' good, said I was flexin' all the time
I did it cause I could
I swing this axe like lumberjack, I really wish you would Boy, I wish you would. They tried to have me down bad
It worked out for my good
Actually, I'm great. Yeah, we up above the planes
Told that boy to hold my cape

They act like I work at baggage claim, want me to catch a case
I've been working overtime, so put some extra on my pay
If you ain't talking bout no business or no faith, you gotta wait
We out here movin' with purpose, might wanna get out of the way
I'm pullin' up to your function, you feel the energy change
You feel the energy change
This what it feel like to be in the presence of light
When the glow is insane I know he making a way

Bet I rise like the third day, the third day, the third day
I was down in the worst way, on the Thursday, but it's the third day
Bet I rise like the third day, the third day, the third day
I was down in the worst way, on the Thursday, but it's the third day
I know it look dark right now, but it's the last night, last night
If you make it to the morning light, it's gon be alright, alright

I know it look dark right now, but it's the last night, last night
If you make it to the morning light, it's gon be alright, alright

I know it look dark right now, but it's the last night, last night
If you make it to the morning light, it's gon be alright, alright