

Broken-Hearted Road

Derek Ryan

Woke up this morning in my bed,
I felt like dying- all from missing you
The pillows cold against my head
'Cause I've been crying - all night through

You say you want to make it on your own
But you've been dreaming - of all those city lights
Well who am I to stop a rolling stone
Got start believing, you'll come back by my side

So I go, go, go down the broken hearted road
Taking a step by at a time
Though I know, know, know
It all makes me feel alright
Nobody's worth the tears I cried tonight

Yes I still got our picture in a frame
Feels like I'm loosing - at love's hurting game
My mind begins to think what might have been
What we've been doing if you never went away

Has I go, go, go down the broken hearted road
Taking a step by at a time
Though I know, know, know
It all makes me feel alright
Nobody's worth the tears I cried tonight

Yes, I go, go, go down the broken hearted road
Taking a step by at a time
Though I know, know, know
It all makes me feel alright
Nobody's worth the tears I cried tonight

I say you ain't worth the tears I cried tonight
