

Small Town Summer

Derek Ryan

I remember that small town summer
Beer cans and barley fields
The first time I saw your eyes shimmer
Through the shadows of a Ferris wheel

And my new guitar and dad's old car
I didn't think we'd go so far
Endless nights and splendid hearts
Drifted out of site

We were wild, we were strong, we were young, we were wrong
Love was just something to do
We had fields, we had dreams, we were somewhere between
Everything and nothing to prove
What I'd give for one more small town summer with you

I remember that sweet warm feeling
Stargazing, nowhere to be
It was easy just believing
We were always gonna be that free

Now I'm worlds apart from where you are
City skies they have no stars
Still your eyes after all this time
Shimmer in my mind

We were wild, we were strong, we were young, we were wrong
Love was just something to do
We had fields, we had dreams, we were somewhere between
Everything and nothing to prove
What I'd give for one more small town summer with you

Love never came so easy
That's when you were lying with me
I guess I had to leave to see, you were always where I wanna be

I remember that small town summer
Beer cans and barley fields

We were wild, we were strong, we were young, we were wrong
Love was just something to do
We had fields, we had dreams, we were somewhere between
Everything and nothing to prove
What I'd give for one more small town summer with you
