

Valentine's Day

Derek Webb

Roses are red, violets are blue
I made the bed, I left them for you
Happy valentine's day, baby
Happy valentine's day

Roses will spread when violets break through
I gave up the ghost, came running for you
Happy valentine's day, baby
Happy valentine's day

It's what you say
When your heart is out of words
And the stars are in her face
Oh everyday

When roses are dead and violets untrue

You shouldered the debt when ransom was due
Happy valentine's day, baby
Happy valentine's day

It's what you say
At the moment that you know
And the tether finally breaks
And everyday

Roses are red, violets are blue
They bleed into one, I bleed into you
Happy valentine's day, baby
Happy valentine's day