The hordes are moving in Exploiting everything
Circling around like vultures
Casting a shadow over all pastures
We've reached a breaking point
Let's face it, it's our fault
Fell into serious disrepair
Toxins fill the air

We're the cancer spreading deep to all 4 corners
The enemy of every element
We're the cancer caused by greed
It's human nature

The hordes are moving on
Species are dead and gone
Resources are bled dry
Turning a profit as the whole world dies
We look the other way
Living with lack of empathy
Fell into serious disrepair
Corpses everywhere

Please stop this devastation
We're leaving such a mess for future generations
The land and sea connects all living beings
Please stop this killing spree

We're the cancer spreading deep to all 4 corners
The enemy of every animal
We're the cancer caused by greed
It's human nature

Value nothing
Profit from the suffering
Value nothing
Profit from the suffering
Can't you see, we have reached the point of no return
I am prepared to die alone
Can you say the same?
Ready to give up your home?

Value nothing
Profit from the suffering
Shifting the blame, repeating errors
Time to look in the god damn mirror
Brace yourself for the aftermath, ready or not
Oh, it's our god damn fault
We're all accountable
Every selfless act can help reduce the threat
Don't react, plan ahead or we're all fucking dead

Our cold world's melting
Our cold world's melting
We'll be extinct
