Moving on

Barely survived the Fall
I couldn't bare the truth
Took our pictures off the wall
Never thought we'd grow apart
From lovers to enemies
Bleached away your DNA
Lost touch with your family
Every trace of you is gone

Buried these memories
Still, they come rushing back
Bright skies turn black
A knife lodged in my gut
These cuts, they run so deep
I will find inner peace
All the smoke in the world will never numb the pain
Tried my best to forget; I must accept
Let go
Let you go

Moving on
I'm moving on

Took our long walks for granted
Our silent conversations
Farewell loyal companion
Never got to say goodbye
Dreamt of you the other night
Held you close inside my arms
Good Girl, hope you're alright
Miss you always, fuck my life

Buried these memories
Still, they come rushing back
Bright skies turn black
A knife lodged in my gut
These cuts, they run so deep
I will find inner peace
Every drink in the world will never drown the pain
Tried my best to forget; I must accept
Let go
Let you go

And so begins The Healing Process
I also share the blame
Absent and clearly in distress
And so begins The Healing Process
I finally broke the spell
Your magic made me such a mess
And so begins The Healing Process
Moving on
I'm moving on
Moving on
