

The Disappointment

Destine

Good morning dear, gonna stare your eyes out Just overhere, hope it'll make you proud Cause I went across the street didn't know what I was up to I went across the street
you know that I...

What can i say, it quite surprises me that things decay by expectancy
All the things that i wished for in the nights I've spent wondering oh don't get me wrong
You know that I...

What would you have thought when you got there
Did you really think that it's alright
But you never knew any better
And you tried to keep it together
I dodged your eyes and left

Of all the things that can touch us most Deceptions met after coming close You'll get a thorn when you expect a rose somehow
I take you might have learned by now It's disappointment, yeah that's right like disenchantment, and tonight
Those good intentions, they keep on breaking my heart

What would you have thought when you got there
Did you really think that it's alright
But you never knew any better
And you tried to keep it together
I dodge your eyes and left
