

The Longest Road

Destroy Rebuild Until God Shows

Hit the bloodstream quicker
I take two shots to the brain
Well these nights are long
When you're always living in pain
Adrenaline through me
Chemicals working
This time I won't get away
Letting senses fail
Watch it all fall right into place

I don't wanna speak
I know what you expect of me
I can't go quietly
I won't be another memory

All the things I could be
Are nothing if they get to me
If I let them change how I think
If I lose control
I've been working on me
Refocus my energy
To focus on being elite
Not what's underneath

I don't wanna speak
I know what you expect of me
I can't go quietly
I won't be another memory

Taking the longest road to feel something inside
Stuck in the space between my chest and my mind

If I keep on doing that same old shit
That same old shit
I won't get better
If I keep on doing that same old shit
That same old shit
I won't get better

Taking the longest road to feel something inside
Stuck in the space between my chest and my mind
Taking the longest road to feel something inside (all I feel is pain, all I feel is pain) Stuck in the space between my chest and my mind (all I feel is shame, all I feel is shame)

If I keep on doing that same old shit
That same old shit
I won't get better
If I keep on doing that same old shit
That same old shit
I won't get better
