

Breathing the Ashes

Desultory

Numb the pain that is in us all
This is the only way to heal
Beneath the surface of a bleeding soul
We breath the ashes as we fall
I see the way - before it's broken down and gone
I hear the words of a twisted burned out sou

Until the pain is gone
We're left alone
Until the pain is gone
We're all alone

Eyes turn red - out of reach.

We breathe the ashes as we fall

Beneath the surface we try to breathe

Drive a nail into this open wound
Day by day it's getting worse
Crawling further back into the void
Pushing everything away

Share your pain and erase the blame
What's the point when it's too late
Moving forward and embrace the end
Your only exit is unknown

We breathe the ashes as we fall

Drive a nail into this open wound
Day by day it's getting worse
Crawling further back into the void
Pushing everything away

No one will ever be there - to help wash the blood from your hands

No one will ever be there
To help wash the blood from your hands
And no one will ever be there
To fix what is broken
To stop you from falling
