

But Not Forgotten

Devil Sold His Soul

Fading lights, now it's all we see as night engulfs us
Focus, focus on me
Follow me
I open my eyes
I never knew it was so dim
As all mistakes play out in my head
I'll never understand
I'll never lose this hate
Fading lights, now it's all we see as night engulfs us
Focus, focus on me
Follow me
If I turned my back
Would this all just fade to dust?
As all mistakes play out in my head
I'll never understand
I'll never lose this hate
There's an ill wind blowing
On this misguided path
When all our hope has fallen, this light's our last

There is no panacea
We're terrified of ourselves
Under veil of darkness, we erode
But how should I remain
This process in my head
I'm hanging onto all these things that I should leave behind
This process in my head
It's never good enough
It brings me down, just on and on until I close my eyes
And I'll make this on my own with no regrets
And I'll make this on my own with no regrets
But I found a way to say
It's all that I hold
But I found a way to say