

Bloodbath

DevilDriver

Cross the mountains
Into the core
Ride your time here, along the edge of the sword
Consequences hurt, don't they?

Decisions have been made
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not the prey
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not to be the prey
Hiding in the middle of the flame

The beast it walks forever towards
In silence, it hides along the edge of the sword
Consequences hurt, don't they?
Decisions have been made

Keep the beast at bay when you hear him say
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not the prey
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not to be the prey

Beat and bash my head against the floorboards
Strike until my knuckles bleed
Watch the dawn grind us down daily
As we fail ourselves
Down on our knees

Keep the beast at bay when you hear him say
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not the prey
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not to be the prey
We must decide today
To become the hunter and not the prey
We must decide today
