

Nothing Lasts Forever

DevilDriver

You can call me crazy, but it's out of desperation
I'm going insane from this separation
I only exist between heaven and hell
I'm grooming damnation, all the way to fail

Your words beneath my skin
Like a gun with a bullet
You hold the trigger, go ahead and pull it
The sad and unspoken sorrow

Nothing lasts forever
And time does not stand still
When the odds are stacked against us
And the memory instills a thrill
When faith gives way to fear
And silence is insincere
You can call me crazy

From the time I wake up till the time I go to sleep
I can feel what you did to me from my head down to my feet

So you can call me crazy
So you can call me crazy
Your words beneath my skin
The sad and unspoken sorrow

Nothing lasts forever
And time does not stand still
When the odds are stacked against us
And the memory instills a thrill
When faith gives way to fear
And silence is insincere
You can call me crazy

Let's hope the next flood covers and smothers your town

Here's a little lesson 'cause I play head games too
And even went as far as letting you think I wanted you
The way you talk so much shit, we're all fucking done
Next time you come here, you better fucking turn and run
The way you talk so much shit, we're all fucking done
Next time you come here, you better fucking turn and run

The sad and unspoken sorrow

Nothing lasts forever
And time does not stand still
When the odds are stacked against us
And the memory instills a thrill
When faith gives way to fear
And silence is insincere
You can call me crazy

Nothing lasts forever
And time does not stand still
When the odds are stacked against us
And memory instills a thrill

When faith gives way to fear
And silence is insincere
You can call me crazy

The way you talk so much shit, we're all fucking done
Next time you come here, you better fucking turn and run

The sad and unspoken sorrow
