

The Damned Don't Cry

DevilDriver

Awake, the world forever asleep
Promises that no one ever keeps
Fighting for my own sanity
At the break of each and every day

Fuck, wake up, wake up, wake up, stains on my soul
Wake up, wake up, wake up, just remember

The damned don't cry
We're born to dig and die
To play through higher stakes
Survive through dire straights

Seen with my own eyes
Held on through the demise
Letting go of all the sadness and the woe

Regrets, regrets, regrets, stains on my soul
Regrets, regrets, regrets, just remember

The damned don't cry
We're born to dig and die
To play through higher stakes
Survive through dire straights
The damned don't cry
We're born to seek why
To play through higher stakes
Survive through dire straights

Regrets, regrets, regrets

The damned don't cry
We're born to dig and die
To play through higher stakes
Survive through dire straights
The damned don't cry
We're born to seek why
To play through higher stakes
Survive through dire straights
