

Wishing

DevilDriver

Nothing is what it seems
In the hanging garden
Nothing is what it seems
And no one is pardoned
For the sins they receive
And if you take my hand
From that very lost place
I will lead you through darkness
To that very safe space

Wishing, you were here
Wishing, you were here
I'm wishing you were here
You were here right now

We're all filled with dread
When the universe crumbles
And we're all filled with dread
As humanity stumbles
And we're all left for dead
Your god does not dwell here
So break all your mirrors
We will ride to tomorrow
And save all your fears

Wishing, you were here
Wishing, you were here
I'm wishing you were here
You were here right now

In the hanging garden
Where the dead flowers bloom
It's the root of all evil
Filled with death rot and gloom
And if you take my hand
From that very lost place
I will lead you through darkness
To that very safe space

Wishing, you were here
Wishing, you were here
I'm wishing you were here
You were here right now
I'm wishing you were here
You were here right now
With me
