

Fade

Devilskin

You make me believe even know I'm not right
All of them have said those words before
Now the tables turned, there is no chance
Wires twisted, ripped and raw
Because I'm just another one to fade
You say you're sorry, had to come to this
And I was nothing to you at all
Because you used me for your loneliness
A Selfish behalf, now I stall
Because I'm just another one to fade
Yeah, just another one, blank face, again
Because I'm just another one to fade, yeah
Yeah, just another one, blank face, again
(Just another one)
(Just another one)
You're a blank face
You're a blank face
You're a blank face
