Deviskin

You hurt too much to understand
An instance and your life is changed
A whispered word to soothe your pain
A stranger's arms who hold you now
An instance and your life has changed
A whispered word to soothe your pain

And it's so obvious that you're so scared
You hurt too much to understand
You hurt too much to understand

'Cause I'm still here
You're hanging on my every word
Broken, bleeding in the dark
And you're still there
Holding tight with all you've got
Clinging onto life and hope

Glass-like diamonds on the road
An instance changes everything
A whispered word to soothe your pain
I hold your hand, I won't let go
Brave as you could ever be
Hold on now and trust in me

And it's so obvious that you're so scared

'Cause I'm still here
You're hanging on my every word
Broken, bleeding in the dark
And you're still there
Holding tight with all you've got
Clinging onto life and hope

Heart to heart, we're only human
Take my hand and we'll get through this

'Cause I'm still here
You're hanging on my every word
Broken, bleeding in the dark
And you're still there
Holding tight with all you've got
Clinging onto life and hope
To life and hope

Hold on tight with all you've got
Clinging onto life and hope
