The battle's about to begin, the war about to commence
Preparations for the alliance are now underway.

Ziltoid and the human army get their collective poop in a great big shiny group.

The first order of business: beat that war princess before she begins stage three of her attack!

Ziltoid knows of something even more powerful! Something so cra zy and dangerous, no mere mortal dare utter the name of aloud un less they want their head to explode into tiny bulbous shards.
But for the sake of your listening pleasure and todays story, we 're just going to call it by the human translation: Herman- The Planet Smasher

Captain Spectacular: Now don't pull fast ones Ziltoid you need to get that weapon of yours down here.

There's a lot riding on this trust I've got in you. Don't let me down!

Ziltoid is keeping to himself that he's only too aware of the great danger of dealing with the Planet Smasher... and just what it might bring...
