

Borderlands

Devin Townsend

Go, light a fire
And sing what you desire!

I desire a good life

Gotta have a good good life
(Gotta have a good good life)

Her hair's like the burning sands
You'll give her your heart in hand
Her beauty's beyond compare, but woe to those who've seen her

Time has come for you to feel your life

Got a little doggie and he's full of the woof woof!

Shine on the Borderlands!
She shines like the galaxy, but woe to all who fear this

Gotta have a good good life
(Gotta have a good good life)
Gotta have a good good life
(Gotta have a good good life)

So far!
So far!
So far, everything!
So far, everything!
So, follow everything
(Men will be men)
So, follow everything
(Men will be men)
So, follow everything
(Men will be men)
So, follow everything
(Men will be men)

Men will be men!

(She said:) "Touch me"

I wanna wake up where you rise
I want to take you to the light
With all their frantic run around
And all they want is to be found

I wanna wake up where you rise
So long eternal paradise
Two other worlds which we were bound

Now they are dust upon the ground

Life its tragic
Its life its tragic

Its Life! Its magic!
Its Life! Its madness!

Its life!
Its life!

There's a sign on the Borderlands!
It says: "Shine like the galaxy and woe to all who fear this"

Sign on the Borderlands!
It says: "Shine like the galaxy although no one will hear this"

Sign on the Borderlands!
It says: "Shine like the galaxy and woe to all"
