

How You Like Me Now

Devon Baldwin

When I let you in, was it all pretend?
Did you have a plan to push me down and drown me in the end?
Thought you had me fooled but the joke's on you
'Cause before you left, I took your heart and I ripped it in two

Yeah I know I cut you down
Left you bleeding on the ground, but you deserved it
And now that I moved on, you wished that you had never gone
You don't deserve it

How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?

I can feel your eyes, twisting every light
Calculating schemes to pull me in so you can make me blind
Now you want me back, you could feel the lack
A heavy void of something lost but still you know it never asked

But fuck what you've been through
There's nothing else that you could do
You don't deserve it
And I know you're missing this
But baby you have been dismissed
You don't deserve it

How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?

How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?
How you like me now?
