

Someone New

Devon Baldwin

Would you tell me who
Would you tell the truth, babe
Wonder what you'd do
If you knew I know

'Cause you've been fucking with her for a while now
And you still think that I am in the dark somehow
Boy I thought you knew
I am not a fool

Even though I know the truth
Still wish that I heard it from you
Even though it hurts to do
I need to move on too
I need to move on too

'Cause I already, already
I already, already
I already, already
Know you're movin' on to someone new
I already, already
I already, already
I already, already
Know you're movin' on to someone new

When you said goodbye
You couldn't even be a man
And tell me why, tell me why
You had her at your side
Two days after you said you'd love me for life
Well I'm still alive

'Cause I never thought that you could stoop so low
The least you could've done was just to let me know
But you led me blind
Oh at least you tried
(But I see it now)

'Cause I already, already
I already, already
I already, already
Know you're movin' on to someone new
I already, already
I already, already
I already, already
Know you're movin' on to someone new

Baby, I know you'll come crawlin' back to me
Sayin' you were such a fool to leave
But I won't waste my love on you
You couldn't even love me faithfully
I won't give you any sympathy
I just can't wait to move on too

'Cause I already, already
I already, already
I already, already

Know you're movin' on to someone new
I already, already
I already, already
I already, already
