

This Place Is Haunted

DeVotchKa

i'll go away,
till there's no one around
then leave your house
when the sun goes down

plant myself
at the first bottle i see,
and pour a thousand
drinks in the dream

and you'll be gone
for one more day,
and i'll watch you slip
a little further away from us and you were right

change the locks
we are unwanted

drown me in your heat-shaped locket and store me in your fur coat pocket

for one more year,
and i'll watch you slip
a little further away from me
