

Enemies And Friends

Devvon Terrell

Know a million people talk about a million people
All these corny niggas plotting on they friends
You got your home girl talking about your home girl
And when she need you she be saying you her friend
Don't matter what they talk about me, treat 'em like Steve Harvey
You can pick a winner but I know you playin' god
Said you had me if I ever had a problem, all right
That's the type of bullshit I heard my whole damn life
That's the problem with these people they good and they evil
Wanna sit all at your table then they front when they see you
All these snakes up in my grass everybody started biting me
Crazy how these misdemeanors turned into felonies
Oh yeah! I had them knocking at my door
Banging all they saying, "No more locked doors."
Before I call you, 'Friend,' I need insurance goddamn
You said you got me covered that's All State fam

That's what they all say
I got a girl back home like Beyoncé
Man, that's what they all say
All the girls love me and I ball like Curry, what they all say
Know that I'm your friend, no please let me in
That's what they all say
Talking about my enemies and friends

You got them all around you but you don't know the difference
They always wanna play but never doing the dishes
They always acting different when surrounded by women
That's that nigga right there, he put you down so he can get it
Oh my gosh what is the problem with all of these people
They be [?] hitting you again like a sequel
Hold up! You said you the man but you should know your place
You've been [?] popping digits like time off Myspace
Where you at? Got a problem all your servers bad
Running back? You feel the fear, kinda shit is that?
Who knew, you would stab me in the back?
The missing on the line free of charge like Shaq
This the type of person shouting out, "No new friends."
But the new friends switching up like Bruce did
Oh lord, shout out to the Jenners
Even he can keep it real in a world of pretenders

That's what they all say
I got a girl back home like Beyoncé
Man, that's what they all say
All the girls love me and I ball like Curry, what they all say
Know that I'm your friend, no please let me in
That's what they all say
Talking about my enemies and friends
