

Hello World

Devvon Terrell

Looking for someone to blame
My surroundings haven't changed, no
I feel like I'm stuck in the same place, same place
No one in this room knows my name

And I take my time but that feels way too slow, oh
And I know I'm great but the world just don't know
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I'm just trynna go harder
They'll know my name when I finish

And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)

I know there's no one to blame
I say it just to stay sane
It's not easy but I knew it be that way
Work and work all day like I'm running in place

And I take my time but that feels way too slow
And I know I'm great but the world just don't know
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I'm just trynna go harder
They'll know my name when I finish

And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)

Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
I'm just trynna go harder
They'll know my name when I finish

Ohhhhhh
Freedom, freedom
Take me as I am
Ohhhhhh
Freedom, freedom
Take me as I am

And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world

(World)
Counting down the time
Even though it's been a minute
And I'll be like hello hello hello hello hello world
(World)
