

Do You Want To

Dexter Freebish

Do you want to believe in a new revolution?
Do you need to lose yourself inside the solution?
Because yesterday is all you know
Today's the day to break the flow

All around the world looking for a better way
Don't let 'em get you down when you try to make a change
All around the world looking for a brighter day

Do you want to believe in a new revolution?
Do you need to be part of the old institution?
Because yesterday is all you know
Today's the day to overthrow.

All around the world looking for a better way
Don't let 'em get you down when you try to make a change
All around the world looking for a brighter day
All around the world looking for a brighter day

And the sun shines on everyone
Don't let the day end before it's begun
Deep inside we all hide
now it's time to open our eyes
Fan the flame, the world will never be the same

All around the world looking for a better way
Don't let 'em get you down when you try to make a change
All around the world looking for a brighter day
All around the world looking for a brighter day
