

Fate

DGM

The truth I see
At least a glimmer
It's waiting right in front of me
The path is getting clearer now
Although I walk with fear
I need to cope with desire

"Stay with me, lay in my arms"
I can hear a voice that whispers tenderly

"Hold on us, brace me tighter"
It's growing from within

Can't you hear my fate is calling
A siren's song that leads me far from shore
It won't keep me closer
Even though I miss my home
I will just carry on

It's real indeed, I search an answer
I may not find it, here with you
Please let this soul find his way
And tear down these walls now

"Stay with me, lay in my arms"
I can hear a voice that whispers tenderly

"Hold on us, brace me tighter"
It's growing from within

Can't you hear my fate is calling
A siren's song that leads me far from shore
It won't keep me closer
Even though I miss my home
I will just carry on

"You struggle in vain, there's nothing at all"
Echoes in my ears but I need more...
Unchain a restless heart and let me go away without repent

Can't you hear my fate is calling
A siren's song that leads me far from shore
It won't keep me closer
Even though I miss my home
I will just carry on
