

Hope

DGM

These times can lie and deceive
I take no compromise, poisoning my mind
There's space and thousand miles
I mean to travel
To find meaning to life

'Cause I just can't believe in you
No more unseen, louder within
Will rise the call

There's more than nothing at all
You traced the line, I'll find my way
Please hold on
Just let me hope
If every piece will come at place
The big picture will show

Bright lights that somehow were lit
I've traveled so far, led by the stars
Where I cuddled my desires
Bread crumbs feeding children in need
Eased the weight onto my own heart
Giving meaning to it all

Marked by a stronger belief
Thrilled by a future such keen
While the voice in my head is silent-ly screaming

There's more than nothing at all
You traced the line, I'll find my way
Please hold on
Just let me hope
If every piece will come at place
The big picture will show

There's more than nothing at all
You traced the line, I'll find my way
Please hold on
Just let me go
If every piece will come at place
The big picture will show
