

Silence

DGM

I don't mind my heart is aching
You know at least I realized
The road was full of warnings
I ride the street of life with broken brakes
I should have seize the day
(And) praise the moments I betrayed

Recalling that living in harmony
Felt like living in a prison without walls
A constant compromise
(Caught) in the heat of the moment
I was deaf and blind

Silence, the payload of my faults
Now I hide away
Somehow I surrender
Now that the bridge is burning
I need to come back to square one
Victim of desire

I'm done trying, I've found a meaning
The swollen river has run dry
The hide and seek is finished unforeseen
(I'm) done trying to pretend I'm on my way
It's just a cheap refrain
Not the truth I'm willing for

Recalling that living in harmony
Felt like living in a prison without walls
Another compromise
(Caught) in the heat of the moment
I was deaf and blind

Silence, the payload of my faults
Now I hide away
Somehow I surrender
Now that the bridge is burning
I need to come back to square one
Victim of desire

I want to get back where
The wonder has begun
Knowing what I've been through
I want to get back then
I'd walk a brand new path
Now I am aware

Silence, the payload of my faults
Now I hide away
Somehow I surrender
Now that the bridge is burning
I need to come back to square one
Victim of desire
