

Tragic Separation

DGM

The more you'll see the less you'll learn
So they say
It's my life
It's the way I feel
(Just) like hiding from my fate

We parted ways and I was feeling fine
The loving I remember
Since those days that I recall
There's something left untold
(And) it's why I search for more

It's a tragic separation
That brought me where I was
It's a one way resolution
I need to believe in
What captivates my soul

I've seen enough to live my way
"I can go"
And I have tried
And I have lied (myself)
On a daily rise and fall

There is a place
Where the sun will always shine
In spite of distant thunders
Doubts and fears has left me cold
I'm frozen to the core
That's why I search for more

It's a tragic separation
That brought me where I was
It's a one way resolution
I need to believe in
What captivates my soul

And I can't wait no longer for
A place with sun that shines

Tragic separation
That brought me where I was
It's a one way resolution
I need to believe
Alone
